Anjelica

Anjelica knew growing up she always wanted to model, just like every other young girl, but she always figured it was far fetched, and she would never have the chance. At the age of 18 she had a few photographers contact her about shooting. She was nervous at first but she went for it. Her first photoshoot was a killer and from that moment on she was addicted and dedicated. She knew what she had to do, and what she had to give up. It wasn't easy, and it was a slow process at first. Staying up late to practice posing, looking up new ideas and inspiration. Collecting wardrobe and setting a good reputation for herself, its a continuous work in progress. And now her goal is to inspire other models and young girls to go after their dreams. Aspire to inspire.

novel and sultry dancing. A faithful follower of professional wrestling and Walking Dead, she also loves kicking it with her husband over a glass of wine and some dominoes. Caroleena enjoys mechanic work, taking spontaneous road trips and exploring the country. She will never turn down guacamole and especially loves sushi and vanilla soy lattes.

Carolyn recently teamed up with Master Pixel Imaging for this rockin' bike shoot at Kaelin's Custom Cycle in Fairdale, KY.

Brit Treff

Im the type of girl that loves to get out there and experience as much as i can. I am Australian born girl however my family is a mix of Asian, Dutch, and German to name a few. I never really looked at myself as a model because most of my life in my teen years involved sporting including Springboard/Platform diving in which i represented Australia, Gymnastics and Acrobatics, and then one day my friend asked if i wanted to do a photo shoot with a photographer she met and thats where the modelling started. At the moment Modelling is something on the side because my main focus right now is to finish my bachelor of nursing. I have had quite a bit of experience in modelling, collaborating with a few different photographers in Queensland and also collaborated with some Malaysian photographers as well as a japan based photographer while travelling around Asia. I do expect to go further with my modelling some time very soon.
