She actually started modeling about ten years ago through good old Myspace. That is when she was first approached by photographers to do photo shoots when social media modeling was just starting. At first she was too scared and thought it was a scam. Then she saw girls she knew with beautiful photos and thought "Wow I want that!". That lead to her first photoshoot. She loved the results and quickly lead to more photoshoots, then paid work, then publications. She was in grad school at the time and thought what a fun, exciting way to make money between studying!! Now she is a full time model and does not regret that decision at all!! Biggest accomplishments include multiple well known glamour/swimwear magazines as calendar features, featured model, and cover model. She has traveled as far as Vegas, Florida, Costa Rica, Jamaica, and Hawaii for photoshoots. She has also done product advertisements for well known swimwear and lingerie companies. She has been featured on Maxim online and have worked both Maxim and FHM events. However, she is most known for her tv performances. She started off as lead extra on well known shows including Spike TV Inkmaster Season 2, NBC Do no Harm, and Style Network

Jerseylicious to name a few. She is well known for her "ground breaking scene stealing, and controversial " performance as cast member on Season 1 VH1 Dating Naked. She was also a celebrity guest on NBC Universal show Crazy Talk interviewed by NY Live Host Ben Aaron. She strives to stay active in the model world with more publications and exposure and trying to get as big as she can!! Unfortunately she had to turn down the role on this years Season 3 Dating Naked due to being in a serious relationship. However, this isn't the last you have seen or heard from her!! Hopefully not!!

Born and raised in the Northeast, I love the fall and winter! I am very athletic and competitive, playing third base on my softball team, participating in the annual CT Warrior Dash for the past 3 years and watching football. (Go Patriots!) I was also once a tryout candidate for my beloved New England Patriots cheerleading squad! I love the outdoors and enjoy boating and biking. In college I studied biology and hope to someday teach it to younger children. I am also a Civil War history buff and would someday like to volunteer at a Civil War museum in order to use my knowledge of that incredible time in history to really bring the artifacts to life for those visiting. My favorite time of day is the night time, favorite foods are seafood and veggies and my favorite word is fuck! My tattoo is the symbol for Pisces (born March 20th) and I represent that sign to my core - I am very passionate, a great kisser, empathetic and carefree.

Beauty Joy

TEASE-Magazine introduces this Sexy, Spunky, Infectiously Happy young lady whom we met in Punta Cuna, Dominican Republic, at The International Bikini Model Search in May of 2015. "Beauty Joy Lorenze" (and yes that is her real name on her Birth Certificate, "Beauty Joy")

We fell in love with Beauty Joy right away, not only because she is Incredibly Gorgeous with the face of an angel, but because every time we saw her she was able to put a smile on our face with her genuine enthusiasm and her delightful personality. So we at Bikini-Magazine decided to dig a little deeper and find out who this Fun Sized young lady is.

At all of 4' 10 ½" tall and only 87 lb (US.) Beauty Joy currently resides in Central Florida with family. A college student who recently made the Deans List, Beauty Joy is studying Business and Communications with plans on being an entrepreneur in the retail industry. So she has Beauty and Brains, Beauty Joy has only been modeling less than 6 months and has already become a NOPI CHIC with NOPI NATIONALS and won Miss April Social Media for the International Bikini Model Search.

However none of this explains why this young lady is so infectiously giddy and how she seems to brighten up a room when she walks in the door. Digging deeper into her past we found out that Beauty Joy grew up in the Philippines. Her schooling was mostly private school where at the age of 12 her parents sent her to live at a private Christian school on the side of a dormant volcano called Mt Matutum.

No hot water for showers, and doing her own laundry getting up at 5:30 am every morning for exercise and school, she was allowed to go home to visit family only once a month.

Graduating High School at the age of 16, Beauty Joy went to Nursing School for 3 ½ years at General Santos Doctors Medical School and was unable to finish her last 6 months of schooling due to family financial reasons..

Being a bit upset about not finishing her College degree, Beauty Joy moved away from her family to Balut Island the furthest southern island of the Philippines with a girl friends family. While Balut Island has No Running Water and No Electricity, Beauty Joy made the best of things doing gardening, going to the spring to collect water and surprisingly enough getting up every morning at 5 am to dig for bait and then go fishing for about 6 hours a day for her food. She recalls washing her clothes in the river as a fun experience.. After about 2 years on Balut Island Beauty Joy now 21 years old decided to go back to her home town on General Santos City and became a popular singer with a few local bands performing nightly at clubs and city events.

In 2007 Beauty Joy received an invitation to move to the USA and promptly took that opportunity, arriving in Florida in April of 2008 where she now resides. She is now a ½ owner of a retail store in Orlando, and plans on opening more retail stores in the future after she finishes her degree. In December of 2014 after a family member convinced her to go into modeling, she attended a local car show and received a lot of attention from the local photographers. On January 2nd 2015 she decided to start a Facebook page and within 28 days had over 5000 friend requests and needed to start a public figure page. Now only a short 6 months later after winning the IBMS Miss April and gaining the opportunity of being NOPI CHIC she has over 12,000 likes on that page and is growing a reputation of being a very sweet, kind and fun loving girl who really enjoys the new friends she is making in the modeling industry.

With a background like Beauty Joy's we can clearly understand why she is so extremely excited and happy to be one of our Feature Models here at Bikini Magazine. We too are very excited to be the Very First Magazine to Feature and Publish this Stunningly Gorgeous Petite Young Lady. We feel this is just the start of her modeling career and the world is going to hear and see a lot more about Beauty Joy Lorenze for years to come.
