Men are a unique complicated species that some women can tame and others who can not. I like to see myself as a woman with the ability to make a man shift their point of view and want be tamed. It may be the fact that I understand the way men function and think or it may be because I'm Latina. I guess you can choose.

I believe a woman is like a delicate flower that is constantly closed, protected within the walls she built from the rest of the world and only one special man who truly understands the way her brain is wired can see her naked spiritually and physically.

I personally need to feel some sort of connection or spark between me and another person before I let them into my world and see what kind of inner bad girl I have within me. Once I feel that spark, things can get heated pretty quickly and can lead to very sexy things.

I'm a proud Latina which means my ethnicity roots from the beautiful exotic country of Mexico. Born and raised in the United States I learned to embrace both cultures and enjoy the best of both worlds from traditions, holidays, food, music and much more. I'll always feel confident and sexy in my Latin skin.

Being petite, I've always admired my height even though I stand as high as 5'3. I'm as tiny as they come. My booty and curves have always been my hottest assets although my other features like my lips, brown eyes and chocolate colored hair I've also come to love. Fitness is incredibly important to me so building tone and strength to my body helps keep me in shape and being able to look great in front of a camera.

I've never really thought of modeling to be something for me until I tried it for myself and realized I love it. I love how sexy I feel when I pose for my shots and being in control of the moment. When I see the photos, I couldn't be more satisfied with the final results. I definitely see modeling as a career I want to pursue. I want to see myself among other young, gorgeous, talented women who have the same desire as me.

As for hobbies, singing is one of my biggest passions. I self taught myself how to sing different harmonies, sing difficult notes and bring my voice out to the best of its ability. Modeling too. Sometimes, I like to strike some poses in the mirror and practice my serious modeling face which can be seen a lot in the majority of my photographs. I also entertain myself with television shows on Netflix that I obsessively binge watch because who doesn't get stuck on a really good series every now and then, right?

Tiffany Cervantes is a model and actress based out of Louisville, Kentucky. She first fell in love with acting at the young age of 10, when she performed for many of her hometown's local theater groups, in plays like 'Annie' & 'Once On This Island'. Her background is in theater and music, singing in choir her entire life and sparking a passion for the arts rarely seen. She is a very self motivated young lady who is goal oriented so it comes as no surprise that she has stumbled her way into a professional modeling career. She has made appearances at a number of industry events including the Kentucky Derby's Fillies and Stallions Celebrity Party and MAXIM's Indianapolis 500 Party. Tiffany has been fortunate enough to work with some of the most talented photographers in the region. Developing her portfolio and building strong relationships inside the industry. Even appearing in her first music video with recording artist Dusty Leigh, featuring Struggle Jennings, and Kevin Cummings. Tiffany's most rewarding accomplishment to date is having been casted for the CW's hit series "The Originals" as an extra for Season 4. Through this opportunity she was able to meet and network with a number of her peers, some of which included famously successful actors and actresses such as Joseph Morgan, Daniel Gillies, and Claire Holt. This was a turning point in Tiffany's career; as she decided to pursue Modeling and Acting as a full time job, more than just a hobby. With passion and purpose Tiffany has continued to build her network and her portfolio in hopes of securing a lead role that will launch her career to new heights. Have you ever been so in love with someone, that you fall in love with the little things about them? The way they look when they are thinking, or focusing on something. The way their face lights up when they talk about something they absolutely love. The way they talk to other people, their facial expressions and their hand gestures. And just the looks that they give you. The way they smile and laugh with you. The look in their eyes before they lean in to kiss you. That is the type of love that Tiffany looks for in a life partner, someone she will spend the rest of her days with. The type of love where you are not only in love with their mind and personality, you're in love with their soul, every fiber of their being. And just the way they exist amazes you. And you want to know every little thing about them... She knows this type of Love is Rare. For that reason she has no problem waiting for the right person to come into her life and add the value of that unconditional love. Tiffany is full of secrets. She enjoys riding on the mysterious side of things leaving one to wonder, what's next? It could be a spontaneous cruise to a tropical island, or a road trip across the country. She's never far from a good time. Enjoying the finer things in life, she knows exactly what she needs to do to get where she wants to go. Her favorite quote is, "People are like stained-glass windows. They sparkle and shine when the sun is out, but when the darkness sets in, their true beauty is revealed only if there is light from within." – Elizabeth Kübler-Ross
