Hi everyone Chasity here! I have been honored to be published multiple times in this magazine. I love working and creating/producing my own material. I have always had a love of expressing myself creatively. Aside from modeling and photography I've always had a natural gift for acting and performing. Being an advocate is probably the dearest to my heart, I feel like I have a deep calling to be a voice to those who feel like or have been made to feel don't have one, as well as animal rights, anti bullying and mental health. I hope I am a light and an inspiration to you all!!

Tiny Nicole and Destiny La'Shaye are both models living in Sacramento, CA. They are both mothers to young girls. They are also both a part of a marketing and advertising business called 420 Nurses Sactown Chapter. They are entrepreneurs with their own online store. They are multi-time published models. In addition to this accomplishment they run a magazine of their own in their business called Topshelf Magazine. Their goal is to make modeling a career and build their business.

Hi there. I'm Katelyn, Katie for short, I'm 27, and finally believing big dreams can come true, my story and why I'm finally doing this? I recently found out I have cancer in my cervix and my Uterus is mis shaped, I have endometriosis with a bunch of other things wrong, so I would love to see a fertility specialist so hopefully one day I can make a mini me. Or save for adoption; So here I am with the crazy wild dream to be a model or photographed in a magazine. My goal one day...I want to start an apprenticeship to be Piercer, along with my aspiring model. I've never been the pretty girl, or popular so to even put myself out there has been huge for my self love and confidence. I have been sick for months in months, lost of job, friendships, to get any help in this hard time would make me even more grateful. When I say help, I mean to get my story out! 2020 was hard as we all know. I lost 8 people. Two uncles and two best-friends a couple childhood/ home town friends. In February I was sexually assaulted, and too afraid to say anything, a lot of friends and family didn't Believe it I had to say or take it seriously, regardless SPEAK UP. When I finally put my words out there, the guy had three other open cases against him. Grief is hard. It's hard not to blame ourselves, Feel guilty and remember to forget the Trumatic things that happen to us. I do feel like the real goal in life is to figure out how to be happy because bad things are gonna happen and how we deal with it and react is what makes us grow. I still have nightmares I'm still scared. But girl or guy we had to stand together because Sexual assault and death happen and to feel alone, After feeling defeated it is worst feeling of them all. I had such high hopes for 2021 just to lead into it finding out all this news of cancer that flipped my world around. This is why I wanna Chase my dreams life is so short and I just wanna be happy. I also would like to support anyone doing through grief, Depression, and suicide. Talk about your feelings and take care of your body we are so fragile.

I have just begun this and I do it for fun and to show other women and girls that are normal that we are all beautiful! I have an amazing photographer Joel Sanchez. Who helps me feel comfortable and confident with my body. I have many health problems, and to still be able to model and have these opportunities is truly amazing! If you put your mind and effort into things and support the people around you, you will have great things happen. The support that my husband and family give is out of this world. My goal is to keep positive vibes going and show that just have fun and be kind.

Hi, my name is Kimberley or also known as Kimmy, I am 29 years young.

I am super stoked to be Published in the TEASE Magazine, it's my first of surely more to come.

I am a bright bubbly woman that still gets asked for I.D wherever I go, I take it all as compliments.

My passion and desire has grown into something more personal, I've been through some things you wouldn't want any woman to experience, but I've thrown out the toxic and went on my own journey, a long but now amazing journey and have came up better than ever before.

My challenges have been rough – bullied, physical / emotional and psychological abuse, weight issues, stress and a fair few more.

What got me through – family support, hobbies like photography and dance, my independence and strength within myself.

I've been through some of the worst experiences and surely if I can get through them, there's nothing that can hold me back from doing more and making life the way I want it.

I'm proud of myself, the things I have personally pushed through and accomplished, as well as the confidence I have now, no one can put me down.

I met this guy Sean at a local metal gig - first words were "oh my god I love your camera", since that day over 10 years ago, since then we've been great mates as well as business associates, he's assisted in my own issues, building up my confidence slowly – as I got into modelling, and now POW I'm here and life just keeps getting better, and want to show everyone what I've made of myself.

Nothing can mess with me nor hold me back.

This was one of the first photoshoots conducted with model, Pandafury. Pandafury, for being relatively new to the modeling world has illustrated a natural talent for well postured posing, conveying elegant expressions and showcasing her ability to craft her own unique style of attire. She places a great emphasis on her presentation and is an avid video game fan. One of her favorite video games include Super Mario and she currently plays newer titles on the Nintendo Switch. Pandafury dabbles in arts and crafts as well, and utilizes weight lifting in her spare time. These different aspects of creativity allow Pandafury to bring unique ideas into her modeling venture.

My name is Lindsay Machin, I'm 36 years old. I been modeling off and on since I was 8 years old; recently picked modeling back up fully around 2015. Since I been modeling I've come across some amazing models and photographers that have welcomed me into the modeling world. The style I mostly likely to shoot is, sexy lengiere, nudes. I love the dark sexy theme alot as well.... My goals in my modeling life is to achieve greatly and make it into every magizine type u can think of, turning my modeling into a career one day. One of my biggest things I love doing is once I get new ink, I love to show it off and make a story out of my tattoos through my modeling. I have come across many challenges. One thing I tell my self about chanllenges "There no challenge that I can't handle". As long as u do your best and practice, the better you'll feel accomplished with the challenges that come your way each time.

Being a 43-year-old mum to three children, 18 months ago I never dreamed of being a model. Life busy with kids, 2 cats, a full-time job and part time modelling career. Not only do I model but I am also developing my skills behind the camera too and editing. Sometimes I think I need a time machine to fit it all in – that is probably my biggest challenge now, finding the ideal balance between professional life, dedicating time to my children and still finding time for my own pursuits.

The images shown in this publication are my own work both in front of and behind the camera. I am always striving to set myself new challenges. One of my goals for this year is buying a new professional camera and learning how to use it properly. My photo editing skills are developing however I would love how to do composite work.

Who knows as I get older maybe I will transition fully from model to photographer and help new budding talent by giving them the benefit of my expertise both in front of and behind the lens.

For now, every day is a school day as I learn and acquire new skills!
